Reasons to Invest

Potentially higher yields

Latin American corporate bonds historically offer higher yields than bonds from developed markets like the U.S.

Access hard to reach bonds efficiently

The ETF offers diversified exposure to typically hard to reach Latin American bonds, without requiring a large initial investment. It focuses on U.S. dollar-denominated bonds, minimising currency risk for investors.

Active management

Expert active management from Amerant Investments aims to navigate risks and avoid distressed or defaulted bonds. The approach aims to enhance returns and mitigate downside risks.

Product Objectives

Amerant Latin American Debt UCITS ETF (RNTA) aims to invest in a portfolio of Latin American corporate bonds with the aim of achieving steady income for investors, while providing an opportunity to access the growing economies of Latin America. RNTA focuses on bonds issued in hard currency U.S. dollars, minimising currency risk. It also predominantly selects bonds from larger and stabler Latin American countries. The ETF is actively managed by Amerant Investments (AMTI) CIO, Baylor Lancaster-Samuel.
