Sprott Silver Miners and Physical Silver UCITS ETF

Reasons to Invest

Pure play exposure

The Silver Miners ETF offers pure play exposure to silver mining companies and physical silver. Focussing on the upstream opportunity offered by silver miners complemented by physical silver exposure, could stand to benefit from the next stage of a silver bull market.

One of the world's oldest currencies

Silver has value as a precious metal investment with historically low correlation to other asset classes. Investments span coins, bars, jewellery and silverware.

Critical to Energy and Technology

Silver is a critical material that is used across a variety of advancing industries, including solar energy, AI, automotive technology and healthcare. Silver demand significantly exceeded supply in each of the last six years.

Product Objectives

Sprott Silver Miners & Physical Silver UCITS ETF (SLVM) is the only UCITS ETF to provide pure play exposure to silver miners and physical silver. Silver plays a unique role in global markets as both a precious metal and a critical industrial material, with growing demand across electronics, solar energy and other advanced applications. At the same time, silver continues to serve as a precious metal, benefiting from its monetary applications and from increased investment demand. The silver miners and physical silver ETF tracks the Nasdaq Sprott Silver Miners and Physical Silver Index (NSLVRU), which is designed to track the performance of securities in the silver industry, including silver producers, developers, explorers and physical silver.

Key Risks

The exploration and development of mineral deposits involve significant financial risks over a significant period of time, which even a combination of careful evaluation, experience and knowledge may not eliminate. Few properties which are explored are ultimately developed into producing mines. Major expenditures may be required to establish reserves by drilling and to construct mining and processing facilities at a site. Mineral exploration companies typically operate at a loss and are dependent on securing equity and/or debt financing, which might be more difficult to secure for an exploration company than for a more established counterpart. Investors' capital is fully at risk and may not get back the amount originally invested. Exchange rates can have a positive or negative effect on returns. For a complete overview of all the risks, please refer to the "Risk Factors" in the Prospectus.
