Bitwise Core Bitcoin ETP

Reasons to Invest

The ETC aims to offer a capital-efficient way to participate in the performance of Bitcoin.

Cost-efficient total expense ratio (TER) of 0.30% p.a., tracking the institutional-grade Bitcoin price benchmark by CF Benchmarks, ensuring accuracy and reliability in tracking Bitcoin's price movements.

Tier 1 Regulatory Framework & Extended Primary Market Liquidity

BTC1 is German-domiciled, tradable on European exchanges, and has a German financial authority approved base prospectus. It employs unique Tri-NAV valuation, giving investors a longer primary market liquidity window.

Advanced ETP Structure & Institutional-Grade Custody

100% backed, physical redemption, and full transparency through real-time proof of holdings. Assets are kept in cold-storage custody and are secured by an independent trustee, mitigating issuer default risk.

Product Objectives

Bitwise Core Bitcoin ETP (BTC1) is a physically backed exchange-traded product (ETP) designed to provide investors with a secure and cost-effective instrument to gain exposure to Bitcoin. BTC1 tracks the CME CF Bitcoin Reference Rate benchmark and offers easy access, high tradability, transparency, and institutional-grade custody within a robust, fully backed ETP structure. BTC1 is issued by Bitwise and distributed by HANetf.

Key Risks

Investors' capital is at risk and investors may not get back the amount originally invested and should obtain independent advice before making a decision. Any decision to invest should be based on the information contained in the relevant prospectus. ETC securities are structured as debt securities, not as equity. ETCs trade on exchanges like securities. They are bought/sold at market prices which may be different to the net asset value of the ETC. Cryptocurrencies can be highly volatile and your capital is at risk.
